General advice warning

It is important to note that any advice that we may provide is general only and does not take into account your individual circumstances.

Before you make any decision to buy your policy, we recommend that you read this combined PDS and FSG and policy wording to determine if this insurance is right for you.

Updating this PDS

We may change this PDS at any time. Changes will apply to quotes and renewal notices issued after the date of the change. For the latest changes, visit huddle.com.au.

If the change is relatively minor and wouldn't affect a decision to buy or renew the policy, we'll set out the details at huddle.com.au. For other changes, we'll issue a Supplementary PDS or a new PDS, and if they will apply to your policy, we'll let you know about them before you purchase and/or renew the product.

Cooling off and cancellation rights

If you decide that your policy is not for you and you have not made a claim or an event has not happened that could give rise to a claim under this policy, you may cancel your policy within 14 days of it starting (this also applies to each renewal).

If you cancel within the cooling off period, we will refund any premiums you have paid for your policy less any government levies, taxes or duties that we cannot recover.

Even after this cooling off period ends, you may cancel your policy at any time by contacting us. We may charge you the cancellation fee specified in the Certificate of Insurance to cover the administration costs if you cancel after your cooling off period.

If you paid an annual premium, we will refund the full amount, less:

- the amount covering the period you were insured for; and
- government or statutory charges we are unable to recover.

If you pay your premium by monthly instalments, we will not provide a refund.

Supporting customers experiencing vulnerability

We recognise that our customers may find themselves in difficult circumstances, particularly when a claim event occurs. We have developed an internal process to provide additional support to our customers who may be experiencing vulnerability due to their circumstances, including personal circumstances that are not directly related to insurance. The Code provides the following examples that may contribute to someone needing extra care:

- age
- disability
- mental health conditions
- physical health conditions
- family violence
- language barriers
- literacy barriers
- cultural background
- Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander status
- remote location, or
- financial distress.

More information about the extra care we can offer and how we support customers is available on our website at huddle.com.au.

Your excess

The excess is the amount you are required to pay or bear when you make a claim under your policy. The basic excess(es) you chose will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance. Other policy excess(es) that may apply are also explained below and under relevant sections in this PDS.

Where you have chosen two different excesses under your Home & Contents policy

If you have a claim for loss or damage to both your home and contents during the same insured event, you only need to pay one basic excess (the higher of the two).

Earthquake or flood

In the event of an earthquake or flood, a fixed excess of $500 will apply to each event.

Portable valuables cover

An excess of $100 applies to any claim made under the optional portable valuables cover.

Your insurance contract

PART

The cost of this insurance

We consider various factors to calculate your premium, such as:

- your sum insured;
- the location of the insured property; and
- your claims experience.

The premiums payable by you are subject to applicable Commonwealth and State taxes and charges such as the Goods and Services Tax, Stamp Duty, Emergency Services Levy (where applicable). The amount of these taxes, duties and/or fees will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance.

Renewing your policy

To ensure continuing protection we will normally send you a renewal offer at least 14 days prior to the renewal date of your policy. It will set out information like the new premium and excess for the new period, information you have previously told us, and it may also include notice of any proposed changes to the terms of the policy to be renewed. In some cases, we may offer to renew your policy with a different level of cover.

Where you receive a renewal offer, you must tell us if the information contained in it is incorrect or incomplete and you must comply with 'Your duty to answer honestly' (see page 58). If you do not, we may reduce or refuse to pay a claim or cancel the renewed policy.

If you don't want to proceed with a renewal, or if you need to disclose any further information to us, please just call us at least 2 business days before the renewal date.

Unless you tell us that you don't want to proceed with renewal, we will automatically deduct/charge the renewal premium from your debit or credit card.

You also have a 14 day cooling off period following the renewal of your policy that allows you to cancel your policy and receive a refund of the premium paid (see 'Cooling off and cancelling rights' on page 16). You can also still cancel after the 14 day cooling off period (see 'Cooling off and cancelling rights' on page 16).

If we do not offer to renew your policy, we will send you a notice telling you this.

Alternatively, if you have opted out of automatic renewal, we will send you a notice advising you whether we will offer renewal, and if so, asking you to contact us if you would like to continue your cover. If you do not contact us, your policy will lapse. You can opt-out by calling us on 1300 777 200.

Governing law

Any disputes arising out of or under this policy will be determined by the courts of, and subject to the laws of, the State or Territory where the insured site is located.

PART

You must abide by the conditions of your policy such as the conditions detailed below and the conditions applicable to the making of a claim. If you do not, your policy may not operate and we may reduce or refuse to pay a claim and cancel your policy.

Reading your policy documentation

When entering into your policy, you confirm and warrant to us that you have read your policy documents provided to you and will contact us if you have any questions.

Remembering that there are limits, exclusions and conditions that apply to your policy.

They will be contained in this PDS as well as in any applicable Supplementary PDS(s), endorsements and on your Certificate of Insurance.

Your duty to answer honestly

Before you enter into, vary or renew this insurance policy with us, you have a duty to answer honestly and take reasonable care not to make any misrepresentations.

What does this mean?

This means you need to take reasonable care to provide honest, accurate and complete answers to any questions that we ask. This includes:

- checking the information we give you when you apply for, renew or change this policy; and
- letting us know if anything's changed or is inaccurate or incomplete.

If you don't correct the information, we'll take it that you agree with the information and that your answers are current, accurate and complete.

Why is this important?

We rely on your answers and information to decide whether we can insure you, on what terms and for what premium.

It's also important to understand that when you answer our questions, you're answering for yourself and anyone else to whom the questions apply.

If you aren't sure about the answers or the accuracy or completeness of the information, you should take the time to find out before giving a response.

If you don't take reasonable care in answering our questions or correcting the information, you may breach your duty. If that happens, your policy may be cancelled, or treated as if it never existed, and any claim may be denied or not paid in full.

If any question or information isn't clear to you and you need help, you can visit huddle.com.au/help to arrange to speak to one of our friendly team members.

Underinsurance

It is your responsibility to ensure that the nominated sums insured are adequate, you should continue to reassess these sums insured during the currency of your policy and prior to renewal each year.

Interests of others in your home and contents

You must tell us of any other party that has an ownership or financial interest in your home and/or contents, as they may need to be noted on your policy for their interest. No party is covered for their interest unless we note them.

If there is a mortgage over your property

If a mortgagee (usually your bank or credit provider) is noted on your Certificate of Insurance and you have a claim which is covered and settled on a cash basis, we will, if legally obligated, make this payment to the mortgagee in full or part settlement of your claim. In this situation, we will pay the mortgagee the amount we pay to settle the claim, up to the amount outstanding under your mortgage. We only cover your interest in the insured property, unless we specifically include cover for the interest of a third party.

If there is more than one policyholder

If there is more than one policyholder on your Certificate of Insurance we will treat a statement, act, omission, claim or request to alter or cancel your policy made by one as coming from all of those named as policyholders.

Review the replacement value of your property regularly

Each year at your insurance renewal, we automatically adjust the amount you are insured for to help your cover keep pace with inflation. In addition to this adjustment, you may also need to consider the value of any new contents or recently completed improvements to your home.

If you do not review the replacement value of your home and/or contents annually, increasing your cover where appropriate, you may be under-insured.

Keep proof of ownership of your property

When you make a claim for loss or damage to an item, we will require proof that you owned the item and of its value or your claim may not be paid. The easiest way to do this is by keeping receipts issued in Australia, manuals and warranties for any items you purchase. If you do not have any of these documents you can get valuations from an Australian registered valuer for your jewellery, art and other valuables.

When building work is carried out

Please note that if you carry out building alterations, renovations or additions up to $50,000 in value the cover in your policy is restricted.

Below we have highlighted the exclusions that apply when building works are underway. You are not covered for:

- loss or damage caused by water entering your home due to building alterations, renovations or additions;
- loss or damage as a result of theft or attempted theft by a person who is on the site with your consent or the consent of another person also residing at the property;
- loss or damage due to theft or attempted theft or where the building security has been compromised due to the works being carried out;
- legal liability in respect to any loss or damage caused by or as a consequence of the building renovations alterations and/or additions if the total value of the project is greater than $50,000; and
- accidental damage by or as a consequence of the building alterations, renovations or additions.

If you plan to carry out building alterations, renovations or additions to your home with a total value of $50,000 or more, you will need to contact us and let us know about the changes. We'll confirm whether cover, subject to the exclusions above, can be extended during your renovation period.

Your policy does not cover you for loss or damage caused by the works or damage to the works. If you need cover, you may need to take out a separate insurance product with another insurer. We don't provide this cover.

Leaving your home unoccupied

You must tell us if your home will be unoccupied for a period exceeding 100 consecutive days (See the definition of unoccupied on page 71).

If you let us know before your building becomes unoccupied for more than 100 consecutive days, we may be able to provide cover during this period.

If you do not let us know, cover under your policy is restricted to loss or damage caused by lightning, earthquake, tsunami or volcanic eruption only during the period of unoccupancy.

At any time when your building is unoccupied you need to ensure the home is maintained in a lived-in state by:

- keeping the lawns mowed and garden tidy;
- stopping regular mail and newspaper deliveries; and
- arranging for someone to check inside and outside your home at least once a week.

Your responsibilities

PART

Always protect your home and contents

You must take reasonable steps to maintain your home and/or contents in a good state of repair and condition.

This includes but is not limited to taking the following reasonable steps to:

- ensure that the home is watertight, structurally sound and secure;
- ensure that gutters, downpipes and roof valleys are not clogged with debris and are not rusted, loose, falling down or missing;
- ensure that floors, walls or ceilings are intact and secure and that any damage to these items and any other parts of the home that are not the subject of a claim under this policy are repaired; and
- comply with all statutory obligations, government or local authority regulations and by-laws; and
- ensure that all home maintenance or repairs to the home and/or contents are undertaken by an appropriately qualified person or licensed tradesmen.

Any loss or damage or liability or costs or expenses arising from your failure to take reasonable steps to maintain your home and/or contents in a good state of repair and condition will not be covered under the policy.

You must also make reasonable efforts to protect your home and/or contents from any loss or damage. If you make a claim and knew about something that could cause loss or damage to your property and you did not make reasonable efforts to avoid it before the loss or damage occurred, then your claim may not be paid.

If you do suffer loss or damage to your property, you must also make reasonable efforts to prevent any further loss or damage.

Ensure your premiums are always paid

To receive the benefits of cover as set out in your policy documentation you must ensure your premiums are paid and are kept up to date. If your premiums are not up to date we have the right to cancel your policy.

If your annual premium payment or any instalment premium payment remains unpaid for more than 14 days, we may cancel your policy and/or refuse to pay a claim.

We understand that customers change their banking details for a variety of reasons. However, it is important that you contact us and provide these new details immediately and in advance of any premiums being deducted.

Should your financial institution dishonour any payment because of lack of funds in your account you will be charged any costs that we incur as a result of the dishonoured payment.

Paperless correspondence

At Huddle, we're all about using technology to make insurance better for our customers.

We also prefer to communicate with you by email or other electronic channels, to save paper and hassle for everyone. So it's really important you let us know when your email address or other contact details change.

By taking out this policy, you agree that we can communicate with you electronically, which can mean by e-mail or by letting you know that a particular communication can be accessed on a website or through other electronic means. Remember to save any documents or communications for future reference.

Any electronic communication will be considered to have been received by you 24 hours from when we sent them or when we let you know that they were available - unless we receive a failure-to-deliver notification.

Complying with terms and conditions

If you fail to comply with a term or condition or an exclusion that applies, we may refuse to pay, or reduce a claim, and/or we may cancel your policy subject to the operation of the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth) and relevant law.

How to make a claim

If an event occurs that is likely to result in a claim, the following checklist will help you ensure that you have done everything you need to, so that your claim can be assessed quickly.

If an event occurs that is likely to result in a claim, the following checklist will help you ensure that you have done everything you need to, so that your claim can be assessed quickly. Not all items may be applicable to your claim.

First you should

- 1 do what you can to prevent any further loss, damage, cost or liability;
- 2 tell the police if the event involves theft, attempted theft, malicious acts, civil unrest or impact by a vehicle;
- 3 go to huddle.com.au/help to lodge a claim.

What not to do

- admit guilt, fault or liability (except to the Police);
- offer or negotiate to pay a claim;
- approve any repairs or arrange replacements (other than emergency repairs necessary to minimise or prevent further loss or damage);

- dispose of any damaged property.

We will also require you to

- provide us with any reasonable information and assistance to help process your claim;
- help us manage the claim, which may include us inspecting your building or asking you questions either in writing or in a face to face interview, or you providing written statements to us under oath or affirmation;
- keep items that have been damaged and allow us to inspect them or assess repair costs;
- allow us to take possession of damaged property that is the subject of a claim;
- send us any communication you receive relating to the claim (including telling us of pending court proceedings or offers of settlement);
- help us as we work to negotiate, defend or settle any claim made under this insurance and to exercise for our benefit your legal right of recovery against any other party;
- tell us about any other insurance that may be relevant to the claim.

How to pay your excess

When you make a claim, you will be required to pay your excess. We will choose whether to deduct the applicable excess from any amount we pay you or direct you to pay the excess to us.

How we settle claims for your home

If your home is destroyed or damaged due to a covered insured event under this policy and occurs during the period of insurance, and if it is reasonably practicable, we will rebuild or repair your home as new. If this is not reasonably practicable, we will pay you a reasonable amount to cover the cost of rebuilding or repairing your home as new.

The most we will pay is your home sum insured, or any lesser limit that applies, less any applicable excess. The payment amount may also be adjusted in accordance with the GST provisions in this document.

If you decide not to proceed with the rebuild or repair of your home, we will pay you the reasonable amount to cover the cost of rebuilding or repairing your home as new, or the home sum insured, whichever is lesser. Excesses and other deductions may be applied to these settlements.

We will do our best to source materials that are the same type, standard and specification as the original materials that require replacing. Where the original materials used to build your home are not available in Australia, we'll source and/or pay for the costs of materials that are of a similar kind or quality. For more information see 'Matching' below.

If you're not satisfied with the materials we find to be of a similar kind or quality and we have not commenced the repairs to your home, you may:

- request to pay any extra costs of replacing the undamaged parts of your home with the original materials to achieve a uniform appearance; or
- request that we pay you what it would have reasonably cost us to repair or replace the damaged part and you can organise the repairs yourself.

How we settle claims for your contents

General

If your contents are insured and a contents claim is covered under your policy, we will settle up to the sum for which your contents are insured, or any lesser limit that applies to the item, group of items or event, less any applicable excess. The payment amount may also be adjusted in accordance with the GST provisions in this document.

If your contents are lost or damaged by an insured event which occurs during the period of insurance, we will repair or replace any lost or damaged item if it is reasonably practicable for us to do so. If this is not reasonably practicable, we will pay you the amount it would reasonably cost you to repair or replace the item or to replace it with its nearest equivalent.

If you would like to receive a cash settlement instead of us repairing or replacing your contents, then we will pay you the amount it will cost us to repair or replace the item, or to replace it with its nearest equivalent.

The nearest equivalent will be determined having regard to the content's make, model, specification, cost, capacity and functionality (see 'Matching' below).

If the lost or damaged item is part of a collection, we will only pay for the repair or replacement of the damaged or lost item. We will not pay for any resulting decrease in the value of the collection.

Repairs or replacement of your contents

Replacement is on a new for old basis, except for:

- computers more than 4 years old;
- clothing;
- shoes;
- household linen;
- items out of use (like those stored away in cupboards).

For these items, we'll pay the reasonable market value based on their age and condition at the time of the loss.

We'll repair or replace your contents with new items or materials that are available at the time of repair or replacement from Australian suppliers within Australia.

If we can't source the original items, we'll repair or replace to a similar type, standard and specification as if it were new or we will pay the reasonable replacement cost. We can replace with a different brand provided it is of similar kind or quality as the original.

We won't pay any extra cost of replacing or purchasing extended warranties on any item or provide items of a better standard, specification or quality than as if it were new.

Matching

When this section applies

This section applies if your claim is covered under the policy for loss or damage to your home and/or contents due to an insured event, and we are unable to source original materials that are the same type, standard or specification in order to repair or replace the certain damaged materials.

If this happens, we may also provide coverage to replace the following undamaged materials in the same functional area or room, hallway, stairs or passageway to help create a uniform appearance:

- wall coverings;
- wall tiles;
- floor coverings; and
- fixed cabinets.

How to make a claim

We call this extra benefit 'matching'.

We will only match undamaged parts to the damaged parts within a functional area or room if they are:

- continuously joined; and
- on the same level or floor of your building; and
- made of the same material.

We won't cover the following under this matching benefit:

- loss or damage that occurs to any areas or items that is not defined or listed under this section 'When this section applies'.
- costs to repair or replace undamaged materials in any adjoining functional areas or rooms.
- costs to repair or replace undamaged items on different levels or floors of your building.
- costs to repair or replace undamaged garage doors, roof tiles, roof sheeting and external walls. We will only replace the damaged items, even if the undamaged items are different and do not match the new ones used for repairs.

Where this extra benefit may apply, we may need to add a new separator, like a floor trim, between two or more functional areas or rooms if damage is sustained to one functional area alone.

What we mean by functional area or room

A functional area or room is an area inside your home separated by walls, floors and a ceiling or used for an isolated purpose. A functional area or room starts and finishes at the nearest functional area, wall, doorway, archway or similar opening and/or a change in the floor or wall covering.

A passageway, hallways, stairs or corridor are each their own functional area or room.

There may be circumstances where a room has multiple functional areas. For example, if your home has open-plan living and dining spaces that share the same floor and wall coverings and aren't separated by a wall, doorway or archway, we will still count the living space and dining space as different 'functional areas'.

Here are some examples of what we mean. Please note that any actual claim settlement will be based on the individual circumstances of your claim.

Example 1

In this example, the bathroom, study and living room will each be counted as separate functional areas or rooms

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the living room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area. In this scenario, we may need to introduce a floor trim between the study and living room as per the red line, since the damage is contained within the living room alone.

Example 2

In this example, even though the dining and living rooms are 'open-plan', share the same floor coverings, and aren't separated by a wall, archway or doorway, they will still be considered separate functional areas.

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the dining room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area up to the red line. In this scenario, we may need to introduce a floor trim along the red line.

Example 3

In this example, there is a lounge room separated by a step from the hallway. These are two different functional areas.

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the sunken living room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area up to the red line. In this scenario, we may need to introduce floor trims at the base of the steps along the red lines.

Example 4

In this example, even though the dining and living rooms share the same floor and wall coverings, they will still be considered separate functional areas. The kitchen has a different floor covering so would be considered a separate room.

If there was damage to the flooring at the spot marked 'X' in the dining room, we would only repair or replace the flooring within this functional area up to the red line. In this scenario, we may need to introduce a floor trim between the dining room and living room along the red line.

Example 5

In this example, we would treat areas 1, 2, 3 and 4 as separate sections because they aren't continuously joined or on the same level. If there was damage to section 1 alone, we would only pay to repair or replace this section of your kitchen. In sections 2 and 3, the oven breaks up the two areas of cabinetry. If there was damage to section 3 alone, we would not repair or replace section 2.

How claims impact your policy

After a home claim

After we pay a building claim under your policy, other than a claim for total loss, the sum insured is automatically reinstated at no extra cost.

If the claim is for the total loss of your building, cover for your building ceases as soon as a settlement amount has been formally agreed.

There is no refund of premium. If you have been paying premiums by monthly instalments, we will deduct the remaining instalment premiums from the amount we pay for the claim.

After a contents claim

After we pay a contents claim under your policy other than a total loss, the sum insured is automatically reinstated, and cover continues for the period of insurance at no extra cost.

If the claim is for the total loss of your contents, cover for your contents ceases as soon as a settlement amount has been formally agreed.

There is no refund of premium. If you have been paying premiums by monthly instalments, we will deduct the remaining instalment premiums from the amount we pay for the claim.

After a claim under the optional Portable Valuables Cover

After we pay you the sum insured of, or replace an item individually specified on your Certificate of Insurance, that item will be removed from your policy and cover for that item ceases immediately, and there is no refund of premium. If we have repaired the item, the item will remain listed on your policy. If you want to cover any new replacement item, you will need to notify us to add the replacement item again and pay any additional premium.

GST

Any claim payments made under your policy will be based on GST inclusive costs. However, if you are or would be entitled to claim any input tax credits for the repair or replacement of insured property or for other things covered, we will reduce any claim under your policy by the amount of such input tax credits.

You are required to tell us your entitlement to an input tax credit. If you fail to disclose or understate your entitlement, you may be liable for GST on a claim we pay.

Financial services we provide to you

We are authorised to provide you with general advice and to arrange for you to enter into, and to issue, vary and dispose of contracts of insurance, in respect of general insurance products. We are also authorised to provide claims handling and settling services for those contracts of insurance.

We provide general advice on the insurance products we offer. We do not provide personal advice to you about any financial product or financial service distributed by us. This means that we will not take into account your objectives, financial situation or needs. You should consider the appropriateness of any general advice we provide in light of your own objectives, financial situation and needs before acting on any general advice. You should also consider the PDS component of this Combined PDS and FSG.

Our associations and relationships

We are acting under a binder arrangement with the insurer. Under the binder we are authorised to promote and distribute insurance, arrange your application for insurance or issue policies and handle claims. When Huddle Insurance does these things, it does so under its AFSL and not under the insurer's AFSL.

We act for and represent the insurer and not you. Whenever we issue a general insurance product, we do so under the binder and do so as agent for the insurer. Any advice that we provide is general in nature and it is provided by us as agent of the insurer. This means we do not provide personal advice to you and do not take into account your objectives, financial situation or needs.

The insurer also owns a significant shareholding in Huddle Insurance.

Payments and benefits we receive

We receive commission from the insurer for each Huddle Home & Contents Insurance policy of up to:

- 25% of the gross insurance premium you pay when you purchase your policy; or
- 20% of the proportion of gross insurance premium that is recognised as income in any given month.

In addition to the commission we receive from the insurer, we charge the insurer the following fees:

- a claims administration fee if you have to make a claim; and
- a monthly platform fee for policy administration and use of the Open Platform technology of up to 10% of gross insurance premium recognised as income in any given month.

We also receive 50% of the Underwriting Profit derived by the insurer in respect of Huddle Home & Contents Insurance policies sold by us. Underwriting Profit is calculated in any given year by adding all of the premiums paid by Huddle Insurance clients in that year and deducting the amount of all claims and administration costs incurred during that same year.

We do not receive commission on Stamp Duty, Emergency Services Levy (NSW), GST and other fees or charges.

From time to time we may hold insurance premiums in our Trust Account prior to passing those premiums onto the insurer. During this time the Trust Account will generate interest at the standard banking rate which will be retained by us.

You may request further particulars of these payments but your request must be made within a reasonable time after you receive this FSG and before we provide any financial service to you.

Payment of premium

Payment of premiums by yourself or nominated payee should be received within 30 days of attachment of, or expiry of your insurance. If premium is not received, we are obliged to advise the insurer. The insurer has the right to cancel the insurance and you will not be insured.

Payments we make to distributors or referrers

Where you have been referred to us by another party, we may pay a commission or fee to that other party which will usually be a percentage of the commission we receive from the insurer less an amount that reflects a proportion of the expense we incur in operating the Open Platform. This payment will not increase the amount you pay for your Huddle Home & Contents Insurance policy. These fees are paid by us out of the remuneration we receive and fees we may charge and form part of our administration costs.

You may request further particulars of these payments but your request must be made within a reasonable time after you receive this FSG and before we provide any financial service to you
