Who is this product for?

This product is for people who own a car registered as a private car in Australia, and who can legally drive the car in Australia.

There are two types of products you can buy: Third Party Property Damage Cover and Comprehensive Cover. We've included a handy comparison of these products on page 7.

Our Comprehensive Cover is designed for people who want cover for:

- accidental loss or damage to their car caused by an accident, collision, natural event, fire, theft, attempted theft or malicious damage caused by others; and
- liability for loss or damage to other people's property caused by their car if the driver of their car is at fault.

Third Party Property Damage is for people who don't want or can't get Comprehensive Cover. This level of cover isn't likely to be suitable if your car has a secured loan or other finance as lenders tend to require that you take out Comprehensive Cover.

Our Third Party Property Damage Cover comes with the option to add Fire & Theft coverage, to cover your car for up to $10,000 against fire and theft. You can find out more about this on page 12.

Full details of both levels of cover and applicable exclusions and limitations are set out in this PDS. You can also view full details of our Target Market Determination by visiting insuranceat60.com.

This information doesn't take your personal circumstances into account. Even if you are in the target market and we offer the product to you, that doesn't mean that this product is appropriate for you in your particular circumstances.

No one knows your situation better than you, so before you make a decision on whether or not to buy this product, you should read this PDS to decide if it's right for you.

responsibilities

Page 36

Your premium

Your premium is the amount of money you agree to pay us for your policy.

How much do I pay?

When you apply and we agree to provide you with cover, or we offer renewal, we will advise you of the premium amount, which we will confirm on your Certificate of Insurance.

Paying your premium

You need to make sure your annual premium payment or instalment premium payment is up to date. If it is not, we may cancel your policy in accordance with the law.

If any annual premium payment or premium instalment remains unpaid for 14 days or more, we may also refuse to pay a claim.

It is important that you contact us if your bank or credit card details change. In the event of a total loss claim and where you pay your premium by instalments, we will deduct any unpaid premium for the period of insurance from the claims settlement.

How do we calculate premiums?

Your premium is calculated based on a number of criteria, such as:

- the cover you choose;
- the type of car you own;
- where you park your car overnight;

- your car's accessories or accepted modifications; and
- factors relating to the drivers of your car, such as their age and driving history.

We will also look at the value of your car, other factors that increase or decrease the risk of a claim, and factors that affect our business costs.

Minimum premiums apply which could reduce any discount you may be entitled to.

Your premium will also include amounts covering government charges, taxes or levies we are responsible for, such as GST and Stamp Duty. This information will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance.

Your duty to answer honestly

Before you enter into, vary or renew this insurance policy with us, you have a duty to answer honestly and take reasonable care not to make any misrepresentations.

What does this mean?

This means you need to take reasonable care to provide honest, accurate and complete answers to any questions that we ask. This includes:

- checking the information we give you when you apply for, renew or change this policy; and
- letting us know if anything's changed or is inaccurate or incomplete.

If you don't correct the information, we'll take it that you agree with the information and that your answers are current, accurate and complete.

Why is this important?

We rely on your answers and information to decide whether we can insure you, on what terms and for what premium.

It's also important to understand that when you answer our questions, you're answering for yourself and anyone else to whom the questions apply.

If you aren't sure about the answers or the accuracy or completeness of the information, you should take the time to find out before giving a response.

If you don't take reasonable care in answering our questions or correcting the information, you may breach your duty. If that happens, your policy may be cancelled, or treated as if it never existed, and any claim may be denied or not paid in full.

If any question or information isn't clear to you and you need help, you can call us on 1300 431 288.

Your other responsibilities

PART

2

Looking after your car

You must ensure your car is kept in good repair and you need to take all reasonable precautions to protect your car from loss or damage.

If you do not maintain and protect your car, we may decline your claim or reduce what we pay for a claim.

Notify us when things change

During the period of insurance, you must tell us of any change that may increase the chances of a claim or if any information provided by you to us is not accurate.

If you do not do this, we may refuse to pay a claim where permitted by law.

These things can include (but are not limited to):

- if your car has modifications installed that we have not agreed to;
- if you change from using your car for private use to business use;
- if you replace or sell your car; or

- if you have selected the Pay As You Drive Cover option and the odometer reading you told us when you first applied for this cover was inaccurate. It is your responsibility to check that the start odometer reading shown on your Certificate of Insurance is correct and to notify us immediately to update the reading if it is incorrect.

Where things change we will review the policy. We may propose a variation to the policy terms or in some cases cancel the policy.

Your insurance cover stops if you sell or dispose of your car. You can contact us to cancel your policy and head online to take out a new policy for any replacement car.

More than one insured person

If there is more than one insured named on your Certificate of Insurance we will treat a statement, act, omission, claim or request to alter or cancel your policy made by one as coming from all of those named as insured.

Your other responsibilities

Paperless correspondence

At Insurance at 60, we're all about using technology to make insurance better for our customers.

We also prefer to communicate with you by email or other electronic channels, to save paper and hassle for everyone. So it's really important you let us know when your email address or other contact details change.

By taking out this policy, you agree that we can communicate with you electronically, which can mean by e-mail or by letting you know that a particular communication can be accessed on a website or through other electronic means. Remember to save any documents or communications for future reference.

Any electronic communication will be considered to have been received by you 24 hours from when we sent them or when we let you know that they were available - unless we receive a failure-to-deliver notification.

Making a claim

In the event of a claim it is good to understand the process so you know what to do and what to expect. Our claims team will support and guide you through the claim process.

Repairs and replacements

Assessing your claim

Page 40

Understanding your excess

Page 44

What we pay

Page 41

What to do in the event of a claim

1

Secure your car

Make sure your car is safe and secure so it will not be damaged further. This may mean having it towed.

2

Get details

You will need to get these details from anyone else involved:

- full name and address and phone,
- vehicle make, model and registration,
- insurance details and driver's licence number.

3

Report the incident

Report the incident or loss to the police if the law requires it to be reported.

4

Lodge your claim

Lodge your claim online at insuranceat60.com.

Do not

- Admit guilt, fault or liability except to the police;
- offer or negotiate to pay any claim;
- or
- approve any repairs, except essential repairs needed to minimise or prevent further loss or damage to your car.

Assessing your claim

After you have lodged a claim with us, we will assess it. When we are doing this, we may ask you for reasonable information and assistance to help with the process, including as set out in the following points.

We may ask you for:

- a face-to-face or telephone interview;
- information including the full name and address of the person who caused the accident and the registration number of the other car involved;
- written statements under oath;
- relevant documents;
- odometer readings;
- proof of ownership of the car and any damaged or lost property, such as receipts, invoices, bank or credit card statements, contracts of sale or original photographs;
- details of any other insurance that relates to the claim.

We will require you to:

- let us see or take possession of any damaged property;
- let us or our agent inspect your car;
- send us any communication you receive about the claim from anyone else (including letters of demand and communication about court proceedings);
- do everything you can to help us to negotiate, defend or settle your claim or to recover costs from another party responsible for damaging your car.

What we pay

If you have a claim under the policy we will, depending on what approach is more reasonably practicable in the circumstances:

- repair your car if it is safe and economically viable to do so;
- pay you the reasonable cost for you to repair your car;
- replace your car; or
- pay you the agreed or market value of your car (depending on which cover you have selected or any other limit shown on your Certificate of Insurance) if it is a total loss.

When deciding which approach to take, we will consider all relevant circumstances, including but not limited to your preference and the relevant legislation that applies in the State or Territory where your car is being assessed, to determine if your car is a total loss.

If your car is a total loss

The maximum amount we will pay for the total loss of your car will be based on the sum insured shown on your Certificate of Insurance, less any excess(es). If you have a market value policy, the maximum we will pay for the total loss of your car is the market value (see definition on page 64).

Insurance cover for the car will cease as soon as we accept or pay the claim.

If your car is declared a total loss, we will deduct any unexpired portion of your registration and Compulsory Third Party insurance premium from the settlement amount paid. No premium refund is due if you have paid your premium annually. If you are paying your premium monthly, we will deduct the balance of the yearly premium owing from the claim settlement.

You will need to contact us if you want to apply for new insurance cover for your replacement car.

Salvage rights

If your car is declared a total loss, the car, along with any salvage rights will become our property. If you would like to keep your vehicle, where reasonable we will agree and let you know the terms that would apply. If we agree, the car and associated salvage rights will no longer be our property.

Who pays for assessing damage?

If there are costs in assessing the damage:

- for claims we accept and approve, we cover diagnosis and reassembly costs; or
- for claims we do not accept or did not approve, you cover diagnosis and reassembly costs.

Repairs and replacements

PART

1 2

What do we guarantee?

We will only guarantee materials and workmanship on authorised repairs done by a repairer appointed or approved by us. This guarantee is for as long as you own your car and is not transferable.

Who does the repairs?

An appropriate qualified repairer appointed or approved by us will do the repairs. This policy doesn't offer a choice of repairer option.

What might you need to pay for?

We will repair your car to the condition that it was in immediately before the event leading to the claim.

You may have to contribute to the cost of repairing or replacing items such as tyres, accessories, paintwork, bodywork, mechanical components, batteries or interior trims that have been affected by wear and tear or rust and corrosion or damage unrelated to the event leading to the claim.

We will not incur any repair or replacement costs on your behalf without your agreement. We also won't expect you to pay these costs upfront in order for your claim to be approved.

What you pay will depend on the condition of the car at the time of the claim.

Repairs and replacements

PART

Replacement parts

Is the car under a manufacturer’s warranty?

Yes

We will use new Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) parts. For replacement of windscreens or window glass we might use glass which was not produced by the original manufacturer but will always meet Australian Design Rules.

No

We will use parts that are consistent with the age or condition of your car. This may include the use of non-OEM or reconditioned parts.

Damaged parts of a set

We will only pay for the replacement of the actual part(s) damaged.

Parts or accessories no longer available in Australia

If the parts or accessories are no longer available from the manufacturer or available in Australia, we will only pay the cost of an equivalent part or its last listed parts price or value. We will not pay for any unreasonable extra costs to get the parts faster, and we will not have any responsibility for losses arising from any delay in the supply of parts.

Damage to your car’s identification

If your car’s identification, such as VIN plate or label, has been damaged and we cannot source a replacement from its manufacturer we will try to get written confirmation of your car’s identity from the manufacturer. We will then repair your car without replacing any damaged identification, unless the law says we have to.

Understanding your excess

PART

1 2

An excess is the amount(s) of money you pay or must contribute towards the cost of any claim. All excess amounts relevant to your cover will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance. When an excess applies you have to pay your basic excess plus any applicable additional excess(es).

There are some claims where an excess won't apply. Check out 'When won't you have to pay your excess(es)?' on the next page for more details.

Excess types

There are different types of excesses, depending on what your claim relates to, who was driving your car and the type of cover you have chosen.

Below, we outline the different types of excesses and the situations in which they may apply. If more than one excess applies to a claim, the excess for that claim is the sum of the applicable excesses. You'll also find the amount of each excess on your Certificate of Insurance.

Basic excess

This is the amount you pay on each claim made under your policy. If your claim isn't covered, you won't have to pay your excess. You can choose your basic excess from the options offered when you buy or renew your policy. We offer a range of basic excess options between $500 and $5,000. Your chosen excess will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance.

The following excesses may also apply in addition to your basic excess if applicable (they will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance):

Learner driver excess

This excess is $800 and applies if the driver is a learner driver.

Age excess

This applies if the driver is under 25 and has been declared as a driver on your Certificate of Insurance. This excess is $800 for drivers aged 21 to 24, and $1,200 for drivers under 21. This excess does not apply to a learner driver.

Sports Gear Cover fixed excess

This excess is $250 and applies to all Sports Gear Cover claims instead of the basic excess.

Undeclared young driver excess

This applies if the driver is under 25 and has not been declared as a driver on your Certificate of Insurance. This excess is $1,600 for drivers aged 21 to 24, and $2,000 for drivers under 21.

This excess does not apply to a learner driver.

Inexperienced driver excess

This excess is $800 and applies if the driver is 25 years of age or over and has not held a valid licence to drive in Australia (excluding learner's licences and permits) for the last 2 years or longer.

This excess does not apply to a learner driver.

Understanding your excess

An excess is the amount(s) of money you pay or must contribute towards the cost of any claim. All excess amounts relevant to your cover will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance. When an excess applies you have to pay your basic excess plus any applicable additional excess(es).

Pay As You Drive Cover additional excess

This excess is $1,000 and only applies if the Pay As You Drive Cover additional excess is shown on your Certificate of Insurance, and at the time of a claim your odometer reading is either below your start odometer or above your end odometer as set out on your Certificate of Insurance. This excess will also apply if you fail to provide us with your start odometer reading within 14 days of your policy start date.

When won't you have to pay your excess(es)?

You will not have to pay an excess if:

- the damage to your car was caused by a third party driving another vehicle, the driver or your car was not at fault and did not cause or contribute to the damage, and the third party who is legally liable for the damage can be identified (to help meet this requirement, you should get the name and address of the third party or the owner of the vehicle, and the registration number of the other vehicle).
- the damage to your car did not involve another car and the responsible party who is legally liable can be identified (you should always get the full name and address of that person to help meet this requirement).
- you have taken the optional Excess-Free Kangaroo Damage Optional Cover and you are making a claim for your first animal collision in any one period of insurance.

- you have taken the optional Excess-Free Windscreen Cover and you are only claiming for the damage or breakage of your windscreen.

For claims involving fire, theft, malicious damage, damage that happens while your car is parked, or where the only damage is a broken windscreen, the following excesses will not apply:

- Age;
- Undeclared young driver;
- Learner driver;
- Inexperienced driver.

However, all other applicable excesses will apply.

When do you pay your excess(es)?

We will ask you to pay your excess(es):

- to the repairer when you pick up your car; or
- directly to us before you pick up your car; or
- directly to us when we settle a claim on your behalf with a third party.

Alternatively, we may deduct the excess(es) from the amount to pay you.

Changing your cover

We understand that your circumstances may change during your policy period. If this happens, you'll need to let us know. This is an important part of 'Your duty to answer honestly' (see page 35).

You need to tell us immediately if:

- your address or other contact details change;
- you sell your car;
- there are any changes to the physical condition of your car; or
- you plan to, or have, added accessories or modifications to your car.

You should also tell us straight away if any of the details on your Certificate of Insurance are no longer accurate.

You can do this by calling us on 1300 431 288.

If you don't let us know when things change, this may affect any claim you may make.

Remember, when your policy details change, there may be a change to your premium.

In some cases, the change in your circumstances may mean that we're not able to offer you cover anymore. If we're unable to continue to cover you, we'll let you know.

Renewing your policy

- 1

To ensure continuing protection we will normally send you a renewal offer at least 14 days prior to the renewal date of the policy. It will set out information such as the new premium and excess for the new period, information you have previously told us and it may also include notice of any proposed changes to the terms of the policy to be renewed. In some cases, we may offer to renew your policy with a different level of cover.
- 2

Where you receive a renewal offer, you must tell us if the information contained in it is incorrect or incomplete and you must comply with your 'Your duty to answer honestly' (see page 35).

If you do not, we may reduce or refuse to pay a claim or cancel the renewed policy.
- 3

If you don't want to proceed with a renewal, or if you need to disclose any further information to us, please call us at least 2 business days before the renewal date.

Unless you tell us that you don't want to proceed with renewal, we will automatically deduct/charge the renewal premium from your debit or credit card.

You also have a 14 day cooling off period following the renewal of your policy that allows you to cancel your policy and receive a refund of the premium paid (see the 14 day cooling off period on page 3 for further information). You can also still cancel after the 14 day cooling off period (see Cancelling your policy on page 49 for further information).

If we do not offer to renew your policy, we will send you a notice telling you this.

If you have an agreed value policy, we will review your sum insured as part of your renewal offer. The updated amount will be stated on the renewal we send you. This PDS (together with any amendments, updates or endorsements) also applies for any offer of renewal we make, unless we tell you otherwise or issue you with a new updated PDS or Supplementary PDS amending the PDS terms.

Alternatively, if you've opted out of automatic renewal, we'll send you a notice advising you whether we will offer renewal, and if so, asking you to contact us if you would like to continue your cover. If you don't contact us, your policy will lapse. If you would like to opt out, let us know before your policy ends.

Each renewal is a separate policy, not an extension of the prior policy. Your cooling off period will apply on each renewal.

Cancelling your policy

If you want to cancel

You may cancel your policy at any time by contacting us. We may charge you the cancellation fee specified in the Certificate of Insurance to cover the administration costs if you cancel after your cooling off period.

If you paid an annual premium, we will refund the full amount, less:

- the amount covering the period you were insured for; and
- government or statutory charges we are unable to recover.

If you pay your premium by monthly instalments we will not provide a refund.

When we may cancel your policy

We may cancel your policy where permitted by and in accordance with the law. For example, if you:

- do not comply with the policy terms and conditions; or
- do not pay your premium as agreed; or
- make a fraudulent claim; or
- did not comply with 'Your duty to answer honestly'; or
- misrepresented information when you entered into your policy.

If we pay a claim for a total loss, your policy comes to an end and there is no refund of premium.

How we protect your privacy

We will at various times or stages during our communication with you collect some of your personal information.

We collect personal information to provide, offer and administer our various products and services, or otherwise as permitted by law.

Any claim payments made under this policy will be based on GST inclusive costs, up to the relevant amount covered, or maximum amount that we pay. However, if you are, or would be, entitled to claim any input tax credit for the repair or replacement of insured property or for other things covered, we will reduce any claim under the insurance by the amount of such input tax credit.

You are required to tell us your entitlement to an input tax credit. If you fail to disclose or understate your entitlement, you may be liable for GST on a claim we pay.

The Code provides the following examples that may contribute to someone needing extra care:

- age
- disability
- mental health conditions
- physical health conditions
- family violence
- language barriers
- literacy barriers
- cultural background
- Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander status
- remote location, or
- financial distress.

Important information about this document

The financial services offered in this FSG are provided by:

- Insurance at 60, a business name of Money at 60 Pty Ltd ABN 86 638 793 352 (Insurance at 60); and

- Open Insurance Pty Ltd ABN 23 166 949 444 AFSL 451712 (Open).

The distribution of this FSG has been authorised by Open.

Financial services we provide to you

Insurance at 60 is part of the Starts at 60 Group and is authorised to deal in and provide general advice about Insurance at 60 branded general insurance products as Open's authorised representative. Insurance at 60 acts on behalf of Open and the insurer.

Open is authorised to provide you with general advice and to issue, vary and dispose of contracts of insurance for general insurance products. When Open does these things, it does so under its Australian Financial Services Licence (AFSL) and on behalf of the insurer. The insurer and issuer of Insurance at 60 Car Insurance is The Hollard Insurance Company Pty Ltd ABN 78 090 584 473 AFSL 241436 (Hollard).

Any advice you receive from Insurance at 60 or Open is general advice only and has been prepared without taking into account your objectives, financial situation or needs.

Our associations and relationships

Insurance at 60 is an authorised representative of Open.

Open acts under a binder agreement with Hollard to issue, vary or dispose of this insurance and administer and settle claims of this insurance, which means that it can do these things as if it were Hollard. This means that, together, Insurance at 60 and Open are acting for and represent Hollard and not you.

Hollard also owns a significant shareholding in Open.

Payments and benefits we receive

The premium for this Insurance at 60 Car Insurance policy is payable to Hollard as the insurer.

Open receives a commission from Hollard for each Insurance at 60 Car Insurance policy sold of up to:

- 25% of the gross insurance premium you pay when you purchase the policy; or
- 15% of the proportion of gross insurance premium that is recognised as income in any given month.

This commission is included in the cost of the insurance products. We do not receive commission on taxes or government charges.

Open retains a fee of 15% of this commission amount and passes the rest on to Insurance at 60.

For example, if the commission paid by Hollard is 20%, Open retains 15% x 20 %, or 3%, and passes the remaining 17% to Insurance at 60.

Open is also remunerated by Hollard for providing services on Hollard’s behalf in relation to this policy, like sales, policy administration and servicing, up to 10% of the total premium you pay.

Open receives 50% of the Underwriting Profit derived by Hollard in respect of Car Insurance policies it sells and manages on Hollard’s behalf. Underwriting Profit is calculated in any given year by adding all of the premiums received in that year and deducting the amount of all claims and administration costs incurred during that same year.

Both Insurance at 60 and Open employees receive a salary. They may be eligible for an annual performance payment or retention incentives which are discretionary and based on reaching agreed performance levels.

You may request further particulars of these payments but your request must be made within a reasonable time after you receive this FSG and before we provide any financial service to you.
