Your responsibilities

Your premium

Your duty of disclosure

Your other responsibilities

Your premium

Your premium is the amount of money you agree to pay us for your policy.

How much do I pay?

When you apply and we agree to provide you with cover, or we offer renewal, we will advise you of the premium amount, which we will confirm on your Certificate of Insurance.

Paying your premium

You need to make sure your annual premium payment or instalment premium payment is up to date. If it is not, we may cancel your policy in accordance with the law.

If any annual premium payment or premium instalment remains unpaid for 14 days or more, we may also refuse to pay a claim.

It is important that you contact us if your bank or credit card details change. In the event of a total loss claim and where you pay your premium by instalments, we will deduct any unpaid premium for the period of insurance from the claims settlement.

How do we calculate premiums?

Your premium is calculated based on a number of criteria, such as:

- the cover you choose;
- the type of car you own;
- where you park your car overnight;

- your car's accessories or accepted modifications; and
- factors relating to the drivers of your car, such as their age and driving history.

We will also look at the value of your car, other factors that increase or decrease the risk of a claim, and factors that affect our business costs.

Minimum premiums apply which could reduce any discount you may be entitled to.

Your premium will also include amounts covering government charges, taxes or levies we are responsible for, such as GST and Stamp Duty. This information will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance.

Your duty of disclosure

Before you enter into the policy with us, you have a duty of disclosure under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984. This duty is different the first time you enter into a contract with us to when you vary, extend or renew the contract. It applies until we agree to insure you (or until the contract is varied, extended or renewed as applicable).

Duty of disclosure when you enter into the policy for the first time with us

We may ask you questions that are relevant to our decision to insure you and on what terms. If we do, you must provide us with the information we need to enable us to decide whether and on what terms your proposal for insurance is acceptable and to calculate how much premium is required for your insurance. You must be honest and disclose to us anything that you know and that a reasonable person in the circumstances would include in the answers to the questions. It is important that you understand that you are answering for yourself and anyone else to whom these questions apply.

Duty of disclosure when you vary, extend or reinstate the policy

You are required to provide us with the information you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that we need to enable us to decide whether and on what terms to accept the risk.

Duty of disclosure when you renew the policy

We may ask you questions that are relevant to our decision to insure you and on what terms. You must tell us anything that you know and that a reasonable person in the circumstances would include in answering the questions.

We may also provide you with a copy of anything you have previously told us and ask you to tell us if it has changed. If we do this, you must tell us about any change or tell us that there are no changes. If you do not tell us about a change to something you have previously told us, you will be taken to have told us that there is no change. You have this duty until we agree to renew the contract.

Non-disclosure

If the Duty of Disclosure is not complied with we may cancel the policy and/ or reduce the amount we pay if you make a claim. If fraud is involved we may refuse to pay a claim and treat the policy as if it never existed.

Your other responsibilities

Looking after your car

You must ensure your car is kept in good repair and you need to take all reasonable precautions to protect your car from loss or damage.

If you do not maintain and protect your car, we may decline your claim or reduce what we pay for a claim.

Notify us when things change

During the period of insurance, you must tell us of any change that may increase the chances of a claim or if any information provided by you to us is not accurate.

If you do not do this, we may refuse to pay a claim where permitted by law.

These things can include (but are not limited to):

- agreed to;
- business use;
- if you replace or sell your car; or

• if your car has modifications installed that we have not

• if you change from using your car for private use to

• if you have selected the Pay As You Drive Cover option and the odometer reading you told us when you first applied for this cover was inaccurate. It is your responsibility to check that the start odometer reading shown on your Certificate of Insurance is correct and to notify us immediately to update the reading if it is incorrect.

Where things change we will review the policy. We may propose a variation to the policy terms or in some cases cancel the policy.

What to do in the event of a claim

Secure your car

Make sure your car is safe and secure so it will not be damaged further. This may mean having it towed.

Get details

You will need to get these details from anyone else involved:

Report the incident

Report the incident or loss to the police if the law requires it to be reported.

Lodge your claim

Lodge your claim online at insuranceat60.com.

- full name and address and phone,
- vehicle make, model and registration,
 - insurance details and driver's licence number.

Do not

- Admit guilt, fault or liability except to the police;
- offer or negotiate to pay any claim;

or

• approve any repairs, except essential repairs needed to minimise or prevent further loss or damage to your car.

Assessing your claim

After you have lodged a claim with us, we will assess it. When we are doing this, we may ask you for reasonable information and assistance to help with the process, including as set out in the following points.

We may ask you for:

- a face-to-face or telephone interview;
- written statements under oath;
- relevant documents;
- odometer readings;

We will require you to:

- let us or our agent inspect your car;

• information including the full name and address of the person who caused the accident and the registration number of the other car involved;

• proof of ownership of the car and any damaged or lost property, such as receipts, invoices, bank or credit card statements, contracts of sale or original photographs;

• details of any other insurance that relates to the claim.

• let us see or take possession of any damaged property;

• send us any communication you receive about the claim from anyone else (including letters of demand and communication about court proceedings);

• do everything you can to help us to negotiate, defend or settle your claim or to recover costs from another party responsible for damaging your car.

38

What we pay

If you have a claim under the policy we will, depending on what approach is more reasonably practicable in the circumstances:

- repair your car if it is safe and economically viable to do so;
- pay you the reasonable cost for you to repair your car;
- replace your car; or
- pay you the agreed or market value of your car (depending on which cover you have selected or any other limit shown on your Certificate of Insurance) if it is a total loss.

When deciding which approach to take, we will consider all relevant circumstances, including but not limited to your preference and the relevant legislation that applies in the State or Territory where your car is being assessed, to determine if your car is a total loss.

If your car is a total loss

The maximum amount we will pay for the total loss of your car will be based on the sum insured shown on your Certificate of Insurance, less any excess(es). If you have a market value policy, the maximum we will pay for the total loss of your car is the market value (see definition on page 60).

Insurance cover for the car will cease as soon as we accept or pay the claim.

If your car is declared a total loss, we will deduct any unexpired portion of your registration and Compulsory Third Party insurance premium from the settlement amount paid. No premium refund is due if you have paid your premium annually. If you are paying your premium monthly, we will deduct the balance of the yearly premium owing from the claim settlement.

You will need to contact us if you want to apply for new insurance cover for your replacement car.

Salvage rights

If your car is declared a total loss, the car, along with any salvage rights will become our property. If you would like to keep your vehicle, where reasonable we will agree and let you know the terms that would apply. If we agree, the car and associated salvage rights will no longer be our property.

Who pays for assessing damage?

If there are costs in assessing the damage:

- for claims we accept and approve, we cover diagnosis and reassembly costs; or
- for claims we do not accept or did not approve, you cover diagnosis and reassembly costs.

Repairs and replacements

PART

What do we guarantee?

We will only guarantee materials and workmanship on authorised repairs done by a repairer appointed or approved by us. This guarantee is for as long as you own your car and is not transferable.

Who does the repairs?

An appropriate qualified repairer appointed or approved by us will do the repairs. This policy doesn't offer a choice of repairer option.

What might you need to pay for?

We will repair your car to the condition that it was in immediately before the event leading to the claim.

You may have to contribute to the cost of repairing or replacing items such as tyres, accessories, paintwork, bodywork, mechanical components, batteries or interior trims that have been affected by wear and tear or rust and corrosion or damage unrelated to the event leading to the claim.

We will not incur any repair or replacement costs on your behalf without your agreement. We also won't expect you to pay these costs upfront in order for your claim to be approved.

What you pay will depend on the condition of the car at the time of the claim.

Making a claim

Repairs and replacements

PART

Replacement parts

Is the car under a manufacturer's warranty?

Yes

We will use new Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) parts. For replacement of windscreens or window glass we might use glass which was not produced by the original manufacturer but will always meet Australian Design Rules.

No

We will use parts that are consistent with the age or condition of your car. This may include the use of non-OEM or reconditioned parts.

Damaged parts of a set

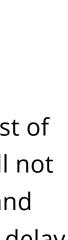

We will only pay for the replacement of the actual part(s) damaged.

Parts or accessories no longer available in Australia

If the parts or accessories are no longer available from the manufacturer or available in Australia, we will only pay the cost of an equivalent part or its last listed parts price or value. We will not pay for any unreasonable extra costs to get the parts faster, and we will not have any responsibility for losses arising from any delay in the supply of parts.

Damage to your car's identification

If your car's identification, such as VIN plate or label, has been damaged and we cannot source a replacement from its manufacturer we will try to get written confirmation of your car's identity from the manufacturer. We will then repair your car without replacing any damaged identification, unless the law says we have to.

Understanding your excess

PART

An excess is the amount(s) of money you pay or must contribute towards the cost of any claim. All excess amounts relevant to your cover will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance. When an excess applies you have to pay your basic excess plus any applicable additional excess(es).

Excess types

There are different types of excesses, depending on what your claim relates to, who was driving your car and the type of cover you have chosen.

Below, we outline the different types of excesses and the situations in which they may apply. You will find the amount of each excess on your Certificate of Insurance.

Basic excess

The amount you pay on each claim made under your policy.

The following excesses may also apply in (i) addition to your basic excess if applicable (they will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance):

Age excess

This applies if the driver is under 25. This excess does not apply to a learner driver.

Sports Gear Cover fixed excess

This applies to all Sports Gear Cover claims instead of the basic excess.

Undeclared young driver excess

This applies if the driver is under 25 and has not been declared as a driver on your Certificate of Insurance.

This excess does not apply to a learner driver.

Learner driver excess

This applies if the driver is a learner driver.

Inexperienced driver excess

This applies if the driver is 25 years of age or over and has not held a driver's licence that is valid in Australia (excluding learner's licences and permits) for more than 2 consecutive years.

Pay As You Drive Cover additional excess

This excess only applies if the Pay As You Drive Cover additional excess is shown on your Certificate of Insurance, and at the time of a claim your odometer reading is either below your start odometer or above your end odometer as set out on your Certificate of Insurance. This excess will also apply if you fail to provide us with your start odometer reading within 14 days of your policy start date.

Special excess

This excess will only be applied if shown on your Certificate of Insurance and may be based on things such as the car, its use, your driving record, or the insurance history of the drivers of your car.

Understanding your excess

PART

An excess is the amount(s) of money you pay or must contribute towards the cost of any claim. All excess amounts relevant to your cover will be shown on your Certificate of Insurance. When an excess applies you have to pay your basic excess plus any applicable additional excess(es).

When do you pay your excess(es)?

We will ask you to pay your excess(es):

- to the repairer when you pick up your car; or
- directly to us before you pick up your car; or
- directly to us when we settle a claim on your behalf with a third party.
 For claims involving fire, theft and malicious damage, broken windscreen or damage sustained while your car is parked, the following excesses will not apply:

Alternatively, we may dedu pay you.

When won't you have to pay your excess(es)?

You will not have to pay an excess if:

- the damage to your car was caused by another driver and you did not contribute or were not at fault, and the responsible party who is legally liable can be identified (you should always get the full name and address of the driver or owner and the registration number of the other car involved to help meet this requirement);
- the damage to your car did not involve another car and the responsible party who is legally liable can be identified (you should always get the full name and address of that person to help meet this requirement); or

Alternatively, we may deduct the excess(es) from the amount to

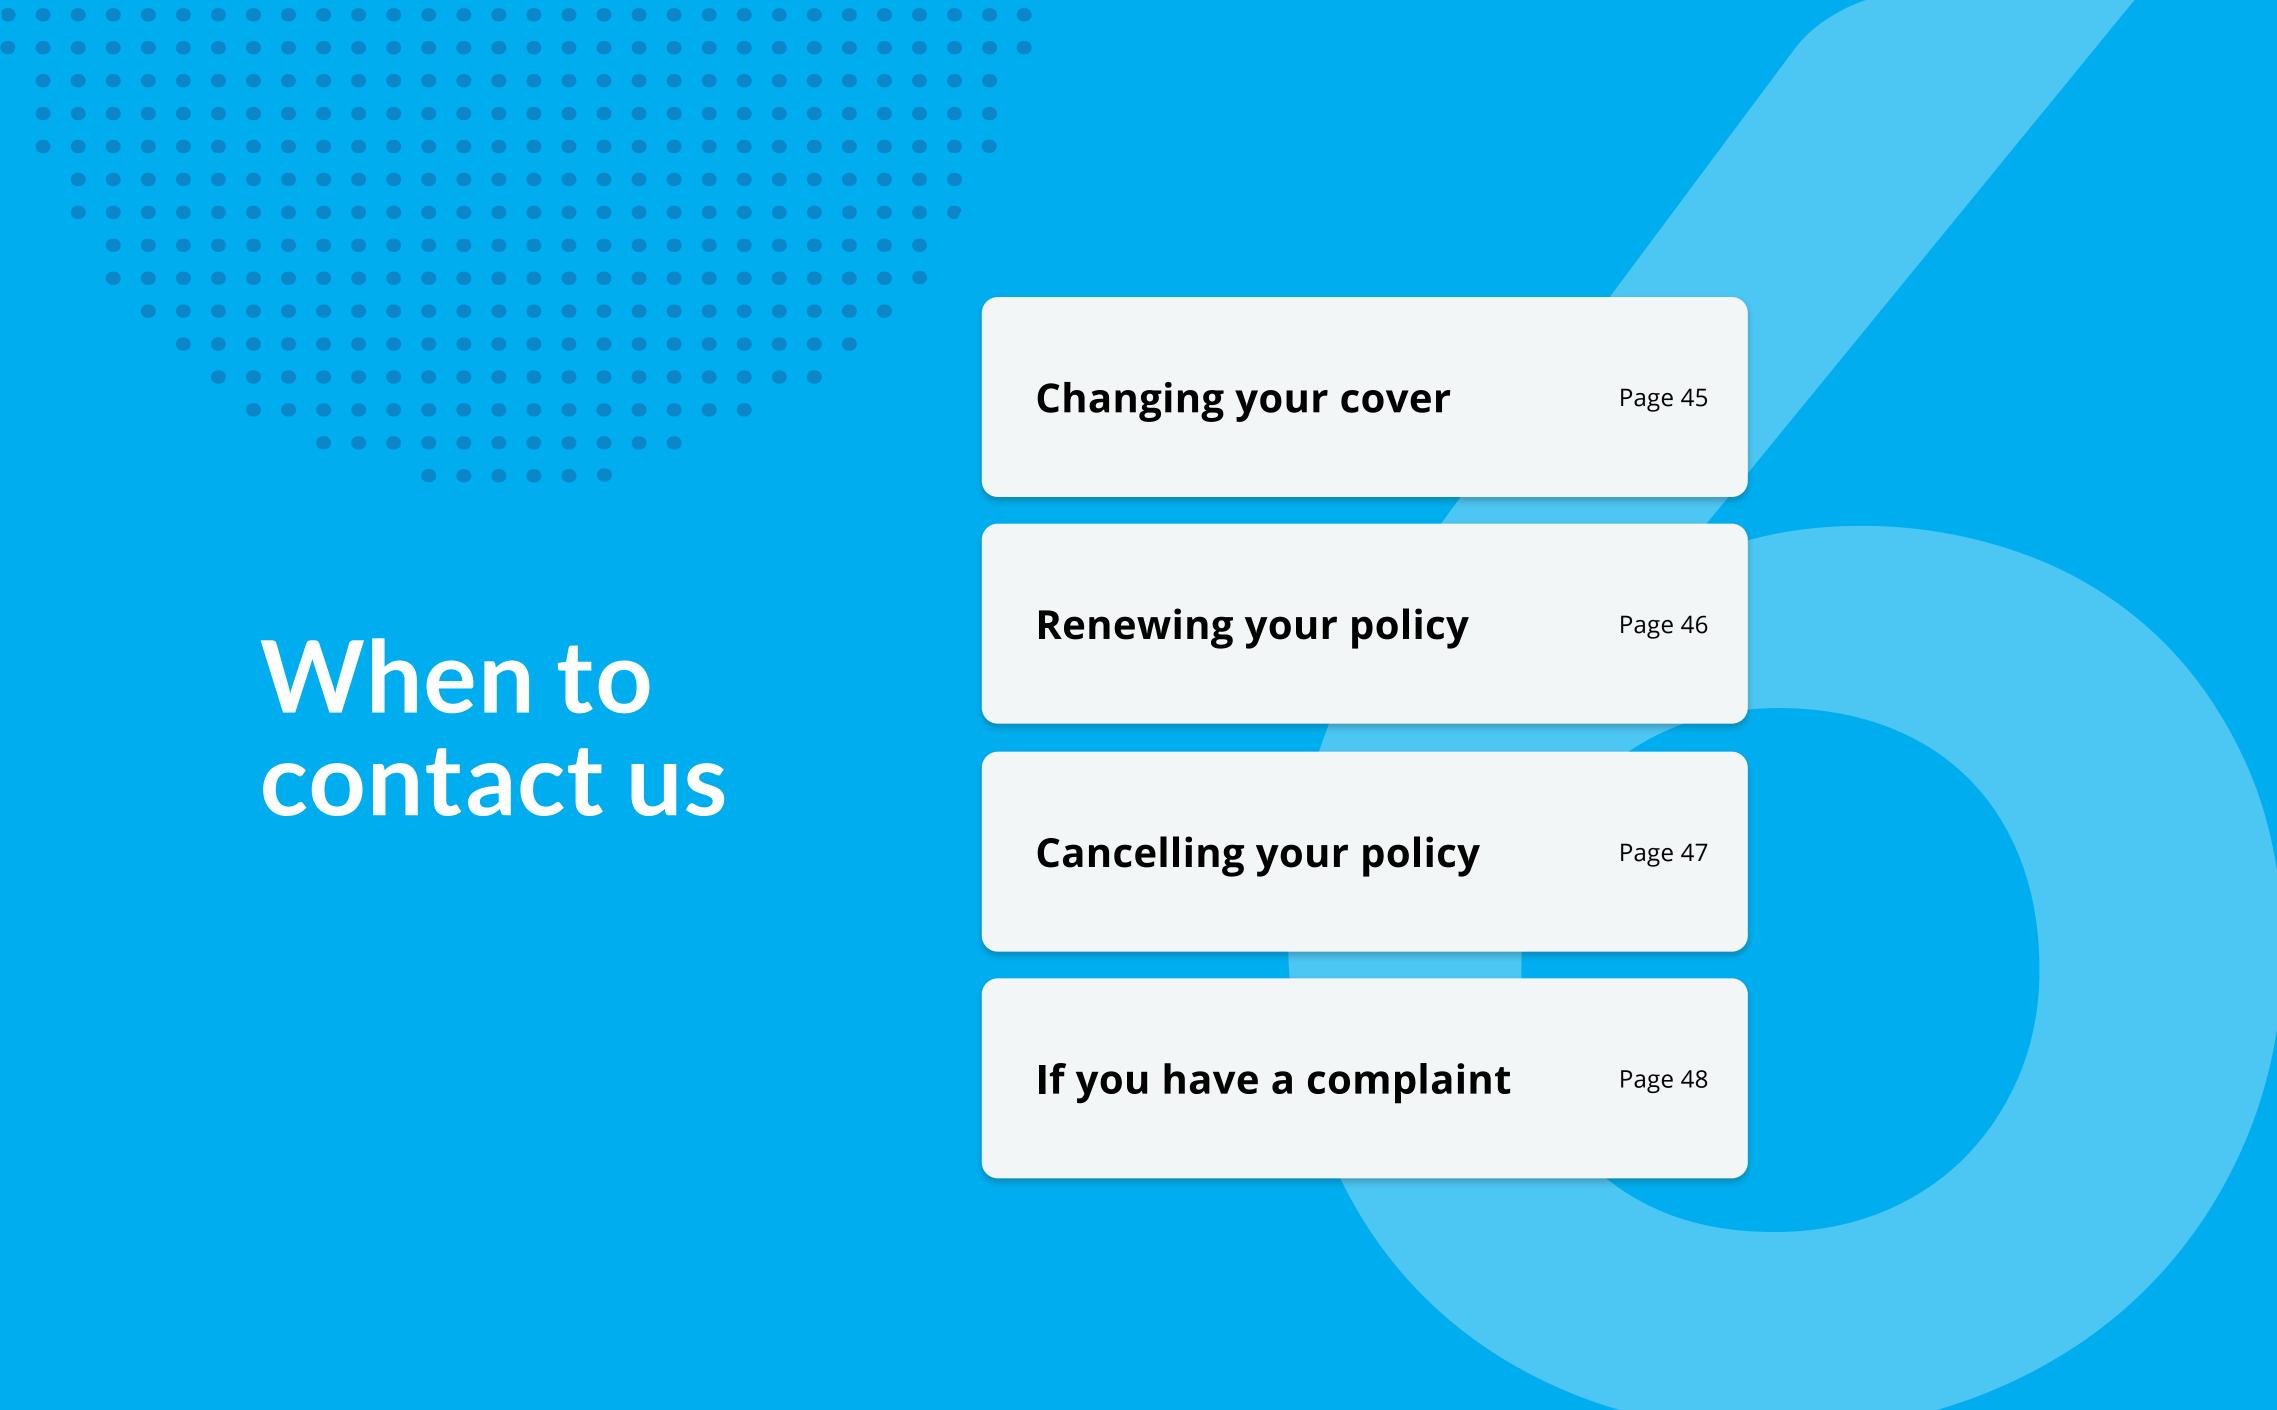

- you have taken the optional Excess-Free Kangaroo Damage Optional Cover and you are making a claim for your first animal collision in any one period of insurance.
- you have taken the optional Excess-Free Windscreen Cover and you are only claiming for the damage or breakage of your windscreen.

- Age;
- Undeclared young driver;
- Learner driver;
- Inexperienced driver.

However, all other applicable excesses apply.

Changing your cover

We understand that your circumstances may change. That is why we need you to contact us promptly to apply to amend cover during the period of insurance.

You need to tell us immediately if:

- longer accurate;
- your address or other contact details change;
- you replace your car;
- your car.

It is important to note that if you make a \bigcirc request to amend your cover this may affect your premium. Any proposed changes to your cover will be subject to acceptance.

• any details on your Certificate of Insurance are no

• there are any changes to the physical condition of your car;

• you plan to, or have, added accessories or modifications to

Renewing your policy

To ensure continuing protection we will normally send you a renewal offer at least 14 days prior to the renewal date of the policy. It will set out information such as the new premium and excess for the new period, information you have previously told us and may also include notice of any proposed changes to the terms of the policy to be renewed.

Where you receive a renewal offer, you must tell us if the information contained in it is incorrect or incomplete and you must comply with your 'Duty of Disclosure' (see page 34).

If you do not, we may reduce or refuse to pay a claim or cancel the renewed policy.

If you don't want to proceed with a renewal, or if you need to disclose any further information to us, please call us at least 2 days before the renewal date.

Unless you tell us that you don't want to proceed with renewal, we will automatically deduct/charge the renewal premium from your debit or credit card.

You also have a 14 day cooling off period following the renewal of your policy that allows you to cancel your policy and receive a refund of the premium paid (see the 14 day cooling off period on page 3 for further information). You can also still cancel after the 14 day cooling off period (see Cancelling your policy on page 47 for further information).

If we do not offer to renew your policy, we will send you a notice telling you this.

If you have an agreed value policy, we will review your sum insured as part of your renewal offer. The updated amount will be stated on the renewal we send you. This PDS (together with any amendments, updates or endorsements) also applies for any offer of renewal we make, unless we tell you otherwise or issue you with a new updated PDS or Supplementary PDS amending the PDS terms.

(i)

Each renewal is a separate policy, not an extension of the prior policy. Your cooling off period will apply on each renewal.

Cancelling your policy

If you want to cancel

You may cancel your policy at any time by contacting us. We may charge you the cancellation fee specified in the Certificate of Insurance to cover the administration costs if you cancel after your cooling off period.

If you paid an annual premium, we will refund the full amount, less:

- the amount covering the period you were insured for; and
- government or statutory charges we are unable to recover.

If you pay your premium by monthly instalments we will not provide a refund.

When we may cancel your policy

We may cancel your policy where permitted by and in accordance with the law. For example, if you:

- do not comply with the policy terms and conditions; or
- do not pay your premium as agreed; or
- make a fraudulent claim; or
- did not comply with your Duty of Disclosure; or
- misrepresented information when you entered into your policy.

If we pay a claim for a total loss, your policy comes to an end and there is no refund of premium.
